Great map!By Helen WhyteThis is what I was hoping for in a map of Cuba. It is large, detailed, clear and printed on some kind of material that will last well. I am so glad we got this before heading to Cuba.

Double-sided indexed map printed on waterproof and tear-resistant paper, with street plans of Varadero beach strip 1:30,000, central Havana, and Santiago de Cuba. Altitude colouring with spot heights indicate the topography, with swamps, seasonal rivers, and reefs also marked. The map shows the country's railways, road network including minor tracks and petrol stations, domestic airports and local airfields, as well as administrative boundaries and names of the provinces (including the US base at Guantanamo). Symbols highlight places of interest, campsites and selected accommodation, beaches and diving sites, caves, etc. Latitude and longitude lines are drawn at 30 intervals. The map has an extensive index of place names and includes street plans of Varadero beach strip, central Havana and Santiago de Cuba, both with selected hotels and places of interest, plus an enlargement of the environs of the capital at 1:200,000.
