to anyone needing an introductory background on presenting their research material for the first time. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. One Star By AJ Stasic Utter waste of money on ideas that are common sense. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Dazzle 'em By A. Nikolov Great little book, highly recommended by my prof, who is a former editor at an academic journal. Many useful pointers throughout.

Mastering the art of communicating scientific information is more critical than ever for a successful career in science and technology. Scientists today must be able to effectively convey sophisticated information to a broad audience that may include students, colleagues around the world, regulatory bodies, granting agencies, legislators, and the lay public. In this engaging and lively book, the author provides a step-by-step guide to the complete process of making a scientific presentation from preparation to delivery. It offers numerous examples highlighting what to follow and what to avoid. This revised edition covers the effective use of PowerPoint and other computer-based presentation programs. It also includes a handy checklist, new illustrations, and tips on handling an audience in a foreign country.

"Brimming with sound general advice and many excellent tips and tricks. Dazzle 'em with Style aims to leave its readers so prepared for their presentations that their brilliance will come shining through." - CIVIL ENGINEERING (July 2006)
