The only issue I have is that there are no markers on the map, like buildings. We got off trail accidentally and it would have been nice to see the cabin we were hiking near on the map to give us some direction. No harm, no foul. We made it back (obviously!). Well made map.4 of 4 people found the following review helpful. Perfect for planning out that backcountry adventure!By GunnyThe Tom Harrison maps each cover a lot of area and are perfect for planning your backcountry trips. Because of the large areas they cover the detail isn't very close-up so definitely not good for backcountry route finding if doing anything above class 1. If needing a map to navigate by when going cross country then get a USGS map which won't cover as much area but has much better detail. They do work well in conjunction with my gps if I stay on trail though which reduces the # of maps I have to take with me and less is always a good thing when it comes to my backpack weight. They are also waterproof which is pretty much a necessity in my opinion. Very happy with this purchase for what I use it for...trip planning.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful.
